

Climate Change and Urban Heat Islands

Abstract: This paper examines how urbanization intensifies local temperatures...

Introduction: Urban heat islands occur when built environments retain heat...

Main Argument: Cities can significantly reduce heat through green roofs, tree cover, and reflective materials.

Conclusion: Urban planning should prioritize climate-resilient infrastructure.